The image shows the front cover of a 1969 yearbook. The cover has a dark, textured background that resembles leather or a fine-grained cloth. In the center, there is a large, light-colored rectangular area. To the right of this rectangle, there are four parallel, slanted lines that create a sense of depth and movement. At the bottom of the cover, the text "1969 Bulldog" is printed in a stylized, serif font. The "1969" is in a bold, sans-serif font, while "Bulldog" is in a more decorative, script-like font. The overall design is simple and classic, typical of mid-20th-century yearbooks.

STATE OF OKLAHOMA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

OKLAHOMA CITY

DEWEY F. BARTLETT

Dear Seniors:

Challenges unknown to you in the past soon will rise to meet you.

Your years of academic endeavor have been designed to help you cope with those challenges, and I am confident that this training, and the lessons of life already learned, will be of unestimable value to you.

I urge you to use your knowledge, vitality, and experience to help build a better Oklahoma.

My sincere best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely,

Dewey F. Bartlett

President Harris: Directs, Implements College Policy

Dr. Al Harris, Southwestern's vibrant president, actively directs and implements college policy, effectuating the smooth operation of the educational process.

A former superintendent of public schools at Custer City, Watonga and Clinton, Dr. Harris has devoted his entire energies since 1960 campaigning for Weatherford and Southwestern's interests, including fund raising for scholarships, loans and other projects.

Himself a graduate of Southwestern, he completed graduate studies at George Peabody College for Teachers and Oklahoma State University.

He and his wife, Joe de'Bob, reside on the college campus, south of the library. Joe de'Bob's ties are with Southwestern too, for she earned her bachelor's degree here.

Research: Gateway to Knowledge

Research plays an important part in the lives of faculty and students alike at Southwestern.

Students in the Chemistry Department have grants from the National Science Foundation for undergraduate research, while students in the Biological Sciences Department work closely with faculty members in Student Research Participation projects.

Oklahoma Consortium Grants, funded by the federal government, are available for faculty pilot studies in research and development seminars. Thirty-two colleges and universities in Oklahoma participate in the project. Southwestern received 12 of the 56 faculty pilot study grants and one of 12 seminar grants, more than its share, according to Dr. Harold Massey, our representative to the Consortium. Southwestern matches federal money on some research projects.

Graduate College: 18 M.E. Programs

Southwestern offers Master of Education degrees in 18 areas of study, including Elementary Education, Art, Biological Science, Business Education, Chemistry, English, Health, Physical Education and Recreation, History and Social Studies, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Music, Natural Science, Physics, Reading Specialists, Spanish and Secondary Counseling. The Graduate College also offers a certificate program for public school superintendents and principals.

The majority of graduate students who attend Southwestern commute for night classes and go fulltime during the summer. For example, 425 students did graduate work during the spring semester; over 1,000 were enrolled during the summer.

School of Pharmacy: Rated High Nationally

Nationally renowned, the School of Pharmacy is the only "school" at Southwestern. Divided into five departments—Medicinal Chemistry, Pharmacognosy, Pharmacology, Pharmacy administration and Pharmaceutics—the School offers a five-year program leading to a Bachelor of Science (Pharmacy) degree. Students must take two years pre-professional curriculum in general education and basic sciences, and the professional curriculum takes five years to complete.

Pharmacy occupies the entire third floor of the Chemistry, Pharmacy, Physics Building, constructed in 1963, and will soon double its laboratory space with an additional facility near completion.

Currently, 350 students are enrolled in the professional school with an additional 250 in pre-professional training.

Education Department: Prepares for NCATE Visit

The Education Department was actively engaged during the year in preparation for the tenth annual visit by a National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education. NCATE gives the college national recognition and facilitates Southwestern graduates qualifying for teaching certificates in other states.

Southwestern prepares teachers with majors in elementary education and 11 secondary fields: art, music, health and physical education, business education, home economics, industrial arts, foreign languages, language arts, mathematics, science, social studies and Speech.

Enrollment in teacher education programs reached 1,522 students, nearly a third of the total college enrollment.

Mathematics Department: Revises Complete Program

After two and one-half years of testing, the Mathematics Department began implementing new programs in Mathematics, Statistics and Computer Science this year.

Students can concentrate on courses for elementary teachers, secondary teachers and professional mathematician leading to Bachelor of Science degrees.

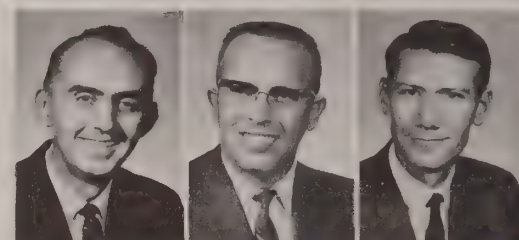

The Math Department is also continuously experimenting with the "discovery" method, seminar groups and the use of visual aid material.

Chemistry Department: Boasts All-Doctorate Faculty

With the completion this year of G. E. Castleberry's doctorate, Southwestern's Chemistry Department boasts an all-doctorate faculty.

If that is not enough, the chemistry facility is one of the newest and finest in the country at the undergraduate level. The latest additions include a multi-channel analyzer with teletype readout and a Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Spectrometer ($30,000). In addition, near completion are seven new laboratories plus auxiliary facilities for curriculum expansion.

Thus instruction at Southwestern places emphasis on latest technique with the appropriate use of instrumentation throughout.

Division of Business: Sponsors Career Day

Seven curricula areas, teacher and liberal arts-oriented attracted 976 students to the Division of Business this year.

In teacher-oriented field, 375 students worked toward bachelor of science and master of teaching in education. In liberal arts-oriented fields, 601 students were directed to bachelor degrees in economics, office management, accounting, and business administration with emphasis in general business, marketing and salesmanship.

The Department, in conjunction with Phi Beta Lambda business organization, sponsored a Business and Professional Day with representatives from companies talking to special interest groups and interviewing prospective job applicants. The Division also worked closely with the College Placement Office to serve student and industry alike.

Division of English and Language Arts: Coordinates Freshman English

Appointment of a Coordinator of Freshman English was the first step in a vigorous program to unify and coordinate the freshman composition program at Southwestern. Dr. Jerry Nye, project coordinator, says, "The object is to try to give a student in one class the same opportunity as one in another." As a result freshman composition instructors met periodically for grading seminars, and conducted research and experiments in consistency and basic errors.

Students enrolled in English and Language Arts can either receive a bachelor of arts in education with emphasis in a division field or a bachelor of arts degree in English, Speech, Drama, French, German and Spanish. In addition, one can minor in Journalism Education.

The Department has two language labs, one brand new, two drama labs and two darkrooms. A high speed tape recording duplicator and a dozen tape records were added this year.

The Department also sponsored three All-School Plays, entered debate tournaments and a literary magazine, The Chapbook.

Department of Social Sciences: New Name for Revised Program

As a part of a year-long study to up-date and strengthen all aspects of its curriculum, a new name, Department of Social Sciences, was effected to accurately describe the revised functions of the Department's program.

Now students may receive bachelor of arts degrees in history, political science, sociology and social studies, and bachelor of arts degrees in education with emphasis in social studies.

In addition, the Department totaled 13,174 volumes in a shelf study of the social science section of the library. The project took 10 secretaries 400 hours in 14 weeks to complete the study. The Department also estimated adding 2,500 books to its collection this year alone.

Physics: New Equipment for Students

The Physics Department added 23 new and different pieces of equipment (including a 11,000 Gauss Electromagnet) to its program this year.

Faculty-student seminars encourage discussion of current and classic topics, and Advanced Laboratory gives juniors and seniors opportunities for individual Physics Projects.

The curriculum is designed to meet the everchanging needs of the various careers that students will embark upon after graduation. Recent graduates have joined NASA, the Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies as well as entered graduate school.

Biology: Auto-Tutorial Experiment

Audio-Tutorial, or self-teaching, is a new experiment in learning for general education students enrolled in the Department of Biological Sciences. The laboratory permits students to do experiments at their own convenience during the 60 hours the lab is available per week. Qualified instruction is always present to answer questions during the session.

In addition, the Department is now affiliated with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. In conjunction, Southwestern offers an accredited oceanography program, including opportunity for summer research for credit at the Institute.

Biological Sciences have also created Faculty-Student noon seminars with equal participation in group discussions and student research participation projects.

Pre-Medicine and Pre-Dentistry programs make students immediately eligible for medical school consideration.

Music Department: Students Perform Recitals

Departmental and studio recitals, in addition to public student recitals were new projects for the Music Department this year. In addition, the Department started an Opera Workshop to give students practical experience in opera production.

The curriculum is both liberal arts and teacher oriented with students able to receive bachelor of arts degrees in voice, instrumental, organ and piano, and bachelor of arts in education with emphasis in voice, instrumental, organ, piano, combined voice and instrumental, and music major.

The Department performed Puccini's opera, "Gianni Schicci," and Handel's "Messiah," in addition to featuring recitals by members of the Music faculty.

Department of Art: Expands Gallery Facilities

Department of Art moved into new quarters during the second semester. In taking over the renovated old library, the Department was able to increase its gallery space, and students and faculty were able to exhibit work there.

A student can pursue one of three programs in art: teacher education, bachelor of art in Commercial Art, and two year certificate in Commercial Art.

The Department sponsored both on and off campus shows for students and faculty, and work exhibited at Duncan, Oklahoma City, Midwest City and Yukon was awarded prizes.

Approximately 200 students were enrolled in degree seeking study and many more took courses as electives.

General Education: Courses For All To Take

The General Education Department administers courses required by all students for graduation. These required offerings in English and Speech, Mathematics, Physical Education, Biological Sciences, Physical Sciences, and History and Social Studies. General Education electives are Music, Art, Literature, Humanities, Behavioral Science and Philosophy, Foreign Language, Practical Arts, Industrial Arts, Home Economics, and Library Science.

The Department at Southwestern has grown from 47 sections of general education courses with an enrollment of 1,266 in 1959 to 153 sections with 4,792 students in 1969.

Home Economics: Child Care in Nursery

A nursery school for area children was started this year by the Home Economics Department to serve as a laboratory for Child Development classes. The school which meets for two hours twice a week gives students an opportunity to work with and observe pre-school children.

Students in Home Economics generally work for degrees in teacher education, using modern facilities and techniques for learning. The Department has separate foods and clothing laboratories, and caters to special college events, such as a brunch for Cover Girl contestants.

Ninety students have declared home economics a major area of study; 50 more indicate it a minor.

A $300,000 swimming pool addition has enabled the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department to expand its course offerings this year.

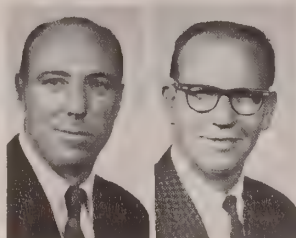

New courses include swimming, life saving, water safety instructor and scuba diving. The scuba class is a first in Oklahoma Colleges.

The Department's Navy numbers 30 vessels. The sailing classes moved to Cobb Lake.

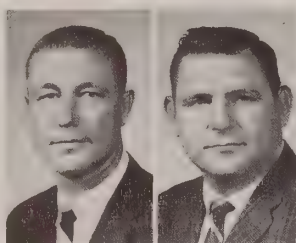

In addition, a course in gun safety and trapshooting was offered for the first time.

Industrial Arts: New Electronics Equipment

In the past two years, the Industrial Arts Department has purchased $9,000 in new electronics equipment, plus additional work benches and tables for woodworking and drafting and design.

The primary objective of the department is to train industrial arts teachers, and courses are offered in woodworking, drafting, metalwork, welding and electronics.

The Department is located in two buildings total 14,000 square feet of floor space on the northeast corner of the campus.

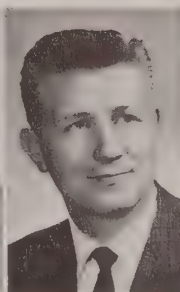

Approximately 70 students declared industrial arts their major last year.

Student Union: A Place to Relax

The Student Center is the hub of campus life. It is a place to meet, relax and eat.

Dormitory students take their meals in the cafeteria; others eat in the snack bar. Some students watch television or play cards in the T.V. Lounge; others play pool in one of two pool rooms.

Meetings of all sizes can be held in the ballroom or one of the smaller rooms available.

The bookstore handles all college textbooks and supplies to fill students' needs. Those who need a haircut can go to the Center barbershop in the basement of the union.

Library: Expanding at Rapid Rate

Expanding at a rapid rate, the Library boasts a shelf total of 88,419 volumes and a backlog of 2,500 uncatalogued books.

In addition, 760 different periodicals, 1,500 microfilms and 28,362 microfiches are available for student and faculty use.

The Library also proved a popular place this year. A monthly average showed 25,714 students using library facilities, checking out 6,244 books and using many more within the ultra new confines of the library structure.

ENROLLMENT: A Necessary Evil

With the start of school came that necessary evil, enrollment. Typically, freshman, though aided by the orientation period, were sometimes lost in the red tape of advisement, scheduling and fee payment. The old hands, sophomores, juniors and seniors, nonchalantly and patiently waded through the maize of lines, "sorries," and near frustration.

But when the smoke cleared, well over 4,700 students had enrolled, a record.

LEFT: Two students register their cars with the college and pick up a vehicle sticker. BELOW: Students plan their schedule which receiving counseling assistance from members of the biology faculty.

HOMECOMING: Rain and Cold Didn't Stop 'Dogs

Rain almost dampened homecoming. But neither the Bulldog fans nor their team would let the weather come between them and a conference lead.

Attendance at homecoming activities was down from previous years and the traditional Saturday morning parade was rained out. And yet, the judging went on as scheduled with Phi Delta Chi winning the Sweepstakes trophy for the third year in a row, retiring it. In the other categories, the Freshman Class, Home Economics Club, Activities Council, Baptist Student Union and Tau Kappa Epsilon won prizes.

Charla Cain was crowned Homecoming Queen at half time, and she and her attendants, Kathy Bailess, Linda Jean Boyer, Kathy Koons and Mary Anne Sampson watched the Bulldogs whip Panhandle 30-7 for the conference lead.

At the post-game dance, the "Shanks" provided the music.

BIG NAME ENTERTAINMENT: Audience Held Spellbound

Big Name Entertainment spelled excitement. Neil Diamond, "Up With People," "The Harpers Bizarre" and "The Grassroots" grooved for Southwestern's audiences.

Diamond, a top recording star since 1965, drew 3,000 for a one-night stand. The young "Up With People" group played for two packed auditoriums and reached many more with their outgoing manner. Both Diamond and "Up With People" appeared during the first semester.

"The Harper's Bizarre" were reminiscent of the old time minstrel show, and what more could be said of "The Grassroots," but "terrific."

FINE ARTS SERIES: Four Termed "Successful"

Instigated as a joint venture between the college and the City of Weatherford, the first Fine Arts Council series was a cultural as well as a financial success.

"We wanted to break even and we did," Janet Morgan of the Music faculty and series program chairman said.

Four programs made up the first series. The National Players from Washington D. C. performed Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night Dream" to open the new venture. Six hundred fifty attended the tragedy in the college auditorium.

Guy Fraser Harrison conducted the Oklahoma City Symphony and Miss Morgan soloed on the piano with the group. A student concert was held during the afternoon.

Norman Abelson, a bass baritone, was the third performer in the series. He was accompanied by his wife.

Internationally-renown pianist Rudolf Firkusny concluded the program. The Czech-born virtuoso started his piano career at six and his experience glistened from the keys during the two-hour concert.

DRAMA: Diversity Keeps Hands Busy

Three plays, widely diversified, were presented by the Drama Department this year.

Tennessee Williams' "The Night of the Iguana," Noel Coward's "Private Lives," and Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap" kept stage hands busy building sets, directing and even acting.

"Iguana," directed by Irwin Bingham, starred Larry Greer and Ann Miller; "Private Lives" featured Cynthia Massey, Jim Rinker, Bill Harris and Sherry Wilson, and "Mousetrap" spotlighted Bill Harris and Pam Muench. The latter two plays were directed by Delenna Rogers with technical assistance by Damarise Kitch in "Mousetrap."

Highlight of season was the last minute Gary Ray entrance as Luis, the French garoon in "Private Lives." Ray replaced Marilyn Bishop who had an appendicitis operation two nights before opening.

ELECTIONS: Posters, Slogans Everywhere

Posters, Slogans, banners and signs all typified the spirit surrounding class and senate elections during the fall and spring semesters.

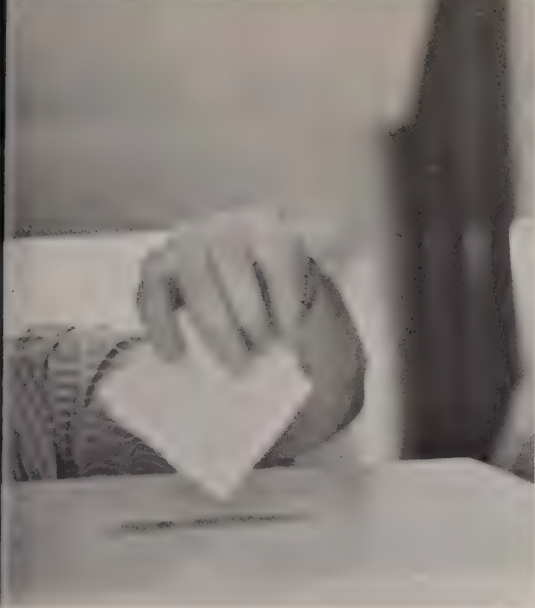

In the Frosh class election, for example, 10 candidates tried for the top presidential position.

On the other hand, Rick Shelby ran unopposed for president in the spring Senate campaign.

The high-low candidate ration did not stop the shaking hands, meeting people and rounding-up votes, so characteristic of election campaigns.

DANCES: Rock, Folk, Formal, We Had It!

Rock dances, folk dances, western dances, you name it, we had it this year. Oh yes, we can't leave out the formal dances.

Spearheading the dance drive was the Student Senate which averaged sponsoring one dance every two weeks.

Also entering the dance scene were the Sig Taus and Wranglers, both who sponsored Western Dances, and the dormitories and fraternal groups which featured formal affairs.

Keeping the beat were Ron Cole and the Fabulous Soul, The Shanks, Marshmallow Steamshovel.

AWS: A Best-Dressed First

Good grooming, costume, personality were criteria used by the judges to choose the Association of Women Students' "Miss Cover Girl."

The winner—Karen Johnson—won over 13 other finalists after modeling school wear, sportswear and formal attire.

Ronnie Kaye, WKY Radio disc jockey, and Mrs. Mary Kelley, counselor at Midwest City school, headed a board of six judges. Completing the panel were Mrs. Juanita Nye, Dr. Virginia Dick and Mrs. Be Fiegel of the Home Economics Department and Dr. Albert Gabriel of the Business Department.

Miss Johnson was featured on the cover of the AWS-published calendar. Other finalists and months featured were: Marty Bower, Miss January; Jane Wilson, Miss February; Pam Wooldridge, Miss March; Lawanna Sue James, Miss April; Melva Kimble, Miss May; and Marsha Williams, Miss June.

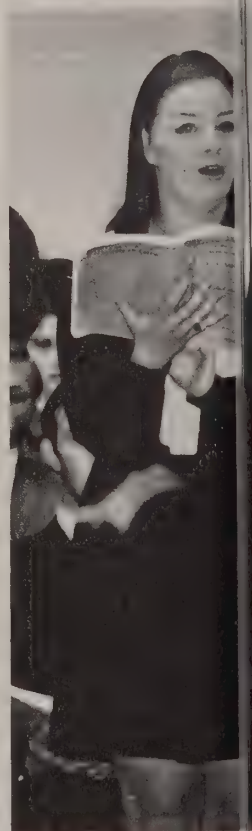

More include: Mary Anne Sampson, Miss July; Wanda Davis, Miss August; Cynthia Edmonson, Miss September; Linda Logue, Miss October; Lana Allen, Miss November; and Cynthia Massey, Miss December.

MUSIC: Three Majors Staged

An opera, a religious cantata and a lively Broadway hit were performed by the music department this year.

"Gianni Schicchi," a one-act comedy opera, was presented by a 15-member cast which featured Bill Lowther and Radonna Sandlin. The opera, set in early 14th century Florence, was part of the Opera Workshop on campus.

Handel's "The Messiah," a traditional Christmas music, was performed jointly by the vocal department and members of the instrumental major. Steve Scott, Binnie Jennings, Radonna Sandlin and Linda Hicks were soloists.

The final vocal production, "Oklahoma," ran a successful two-night stand. Radonna Sandlin and Steve Scott played lead roles.

MISS SOUTHWESTERN PAGEANT: 13 Girls Compete

Shelia Willis won over 12 other contestants in the Miss Southwestern Pageant March 20. She was crowned by Debbie Drennan Jacques, the 1968 Pageant winner.

First runner-up was Kathy Olds. Other finalists were: Linda Braudway, second runner-up; Diane Stedje, third runner-up, and Beatrice Hopkins, fourth runner-up.

Other contestants included: Janice Davis, Cynthia Edmondson, Stacy Fransen, Iris Godley, Carolyn Kirk, Glenna Manes, Bettie Van Oostrum and Judy Lynne Vickers.

The girls competed in swim suit, formal wear and talent competition.

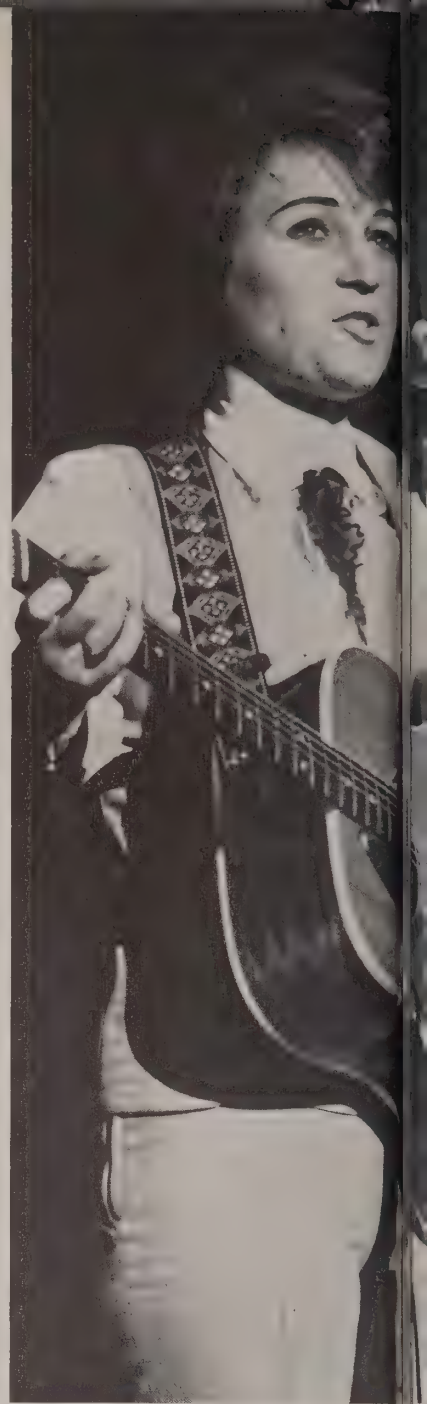

Miss Hopkins was picked Miss Congeniality by her fellow contestants.

Charles Rightmer, a former student, was the master of ceremonies. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Coburn, Helge Holm and Juanita Kidd.

ALL-SCHOOL FOLLIES: Potpourri of Madness

Sigma Kappa sorority won the Greek trophy for the third year in a row at the All School Follies and retired it.

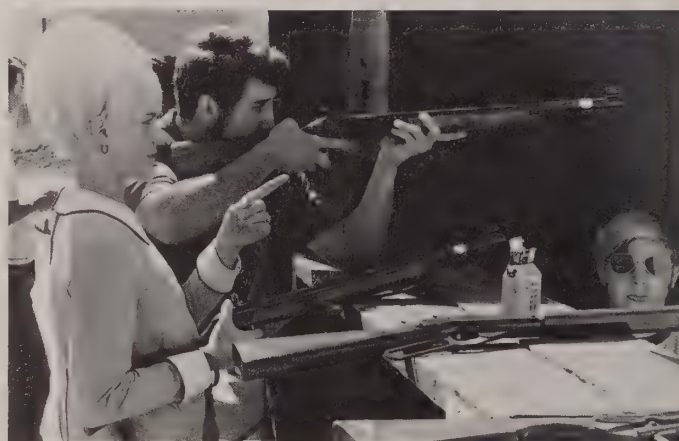

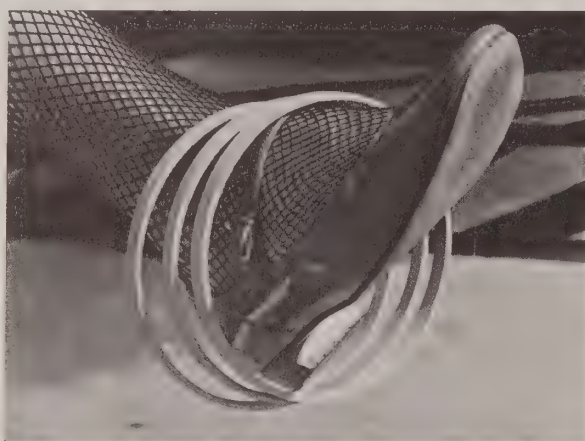

Other winners were Charla Gore in individual competition and Collegiate Dinners and Service Organization in group competition.

Allen Bealmear and Bruce Boyd directed the production, a potpourri of talent acts arranged in the 'Laugh-In' format.

Harold Wright kept the show moving as master of ceremonies, but it was the 'Laugh-In' board which provided the punch for evening. Judy Vickers, Mary Denning, Jody Paige, Archie McGill and Jim Rinker plus specials from Dr. W. C. Burris and Cedric Crink kept the audience laughing.

HAWKINS DAY CARNIVAL: Showers No Knock-Out

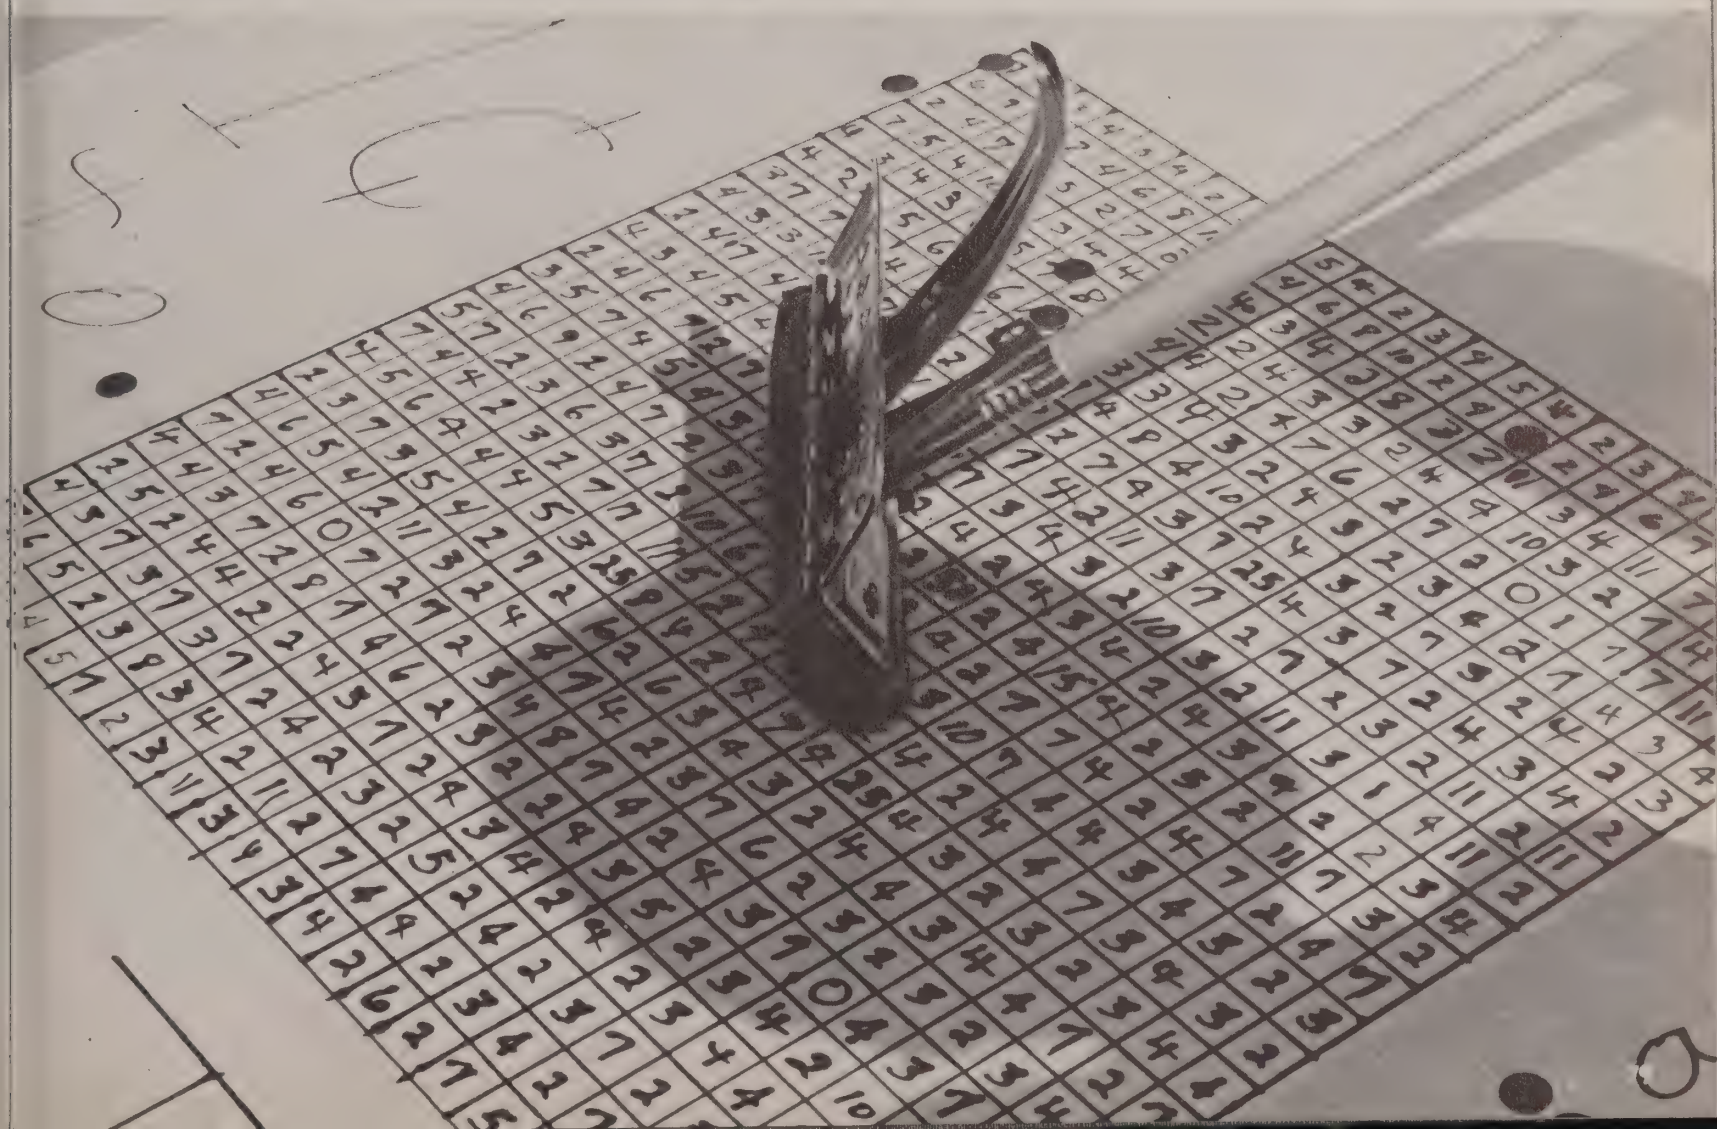

Rain cut short, but didn't dampen the fun and excitement at the campus carnival and Sadie Hawkins Day activities in May.

Doug Passmore and Bettie Van Oostrum won the coveted L'il Abner and Daisy Mae titles and were announced just prior to the rain showers.

Ron Cole and the Fabulous Soul provided music for dancers, but it was the carnival booths manned by various campus groups which received most of the attention. There were penny pitches, garter tosses, BB shoots and games of chance.

Of course, jail was available for unescorted males and females.

FINALs: Studying, Taking and Waiting

Studying, taking finals and waiting for the results, the dread of finals week, drew to a close the academic portion of the year with only graduation for a few left.

The lights stayed on later; the ash trays were fuller, and the number of theatre goers increased as the pressures of finals exerted their influences.

New this year was a revised final schedule which gave students a stop day when no tests could be scheduled and a weekend break between the second and third day of exams. The revision was made at the suggestion of the Student Curriculum Committee through the Dean of Instruction's office. The faculty senate made the decision.

GRADUATION: A Record 685 Degrees

A record 685 degrees, by-far the largest graduation in the 68-year old institution's history, were conferred at graduation exercises at Milam Stadium May 30.

Lieutenant-Governor George Nigh delivered the commencement address and said, "It's a new day beginning in the lives of Southwestern graduates."

Dr. Al Harris conferred the degrees with the assistance of Dr. Louis Morris, Dr. W. L. Dickison and Dr. Harold Massey.

Included were: bachelor of arts, 54; bachelor of science, 180; bachelor of arts in education, 84; bachelor of science in education, 237; bachelor of science in pharmacy, 90, and master of education, 40. The master of education degree was awarded for the first time. Previously, the name of the degree was master of teaching.

MISS SOUTHWESTERN: Shelia Crowned

The announcer, Charles Rightmer, leaned slightly over the microphone, and distinctly said, "The 1969 Miss Southwestern is ... SHELIA WILLIS."

The audience rose as one, applauding. That's how highly the Mountain Park senior is regarded at Southwestern. Now she will represent the college in the Miss Oklahoma Pageant this summer.

Shelia Willis is a fitting queen. She was named "Best Citizen," awarded to the outstanding senior, at the annual Duke Awards Assembly, and received the Miss Southwestern award and scholarship at the same time.

A psychology-sociology major, the brunette was the 1967 Homecoming Queen. She is a member of Chi Sigma Omega, Order of Diana, College Young Republicans, 1967 Teke Playmate, and a member of Oklahoma Hall's House Council.

HOMECOMING: Queen Charla Reigns

At approximately 9:15 p.m. on a cold, windy, and sometimes rainy, evening, Miss Charla Cain was crowned "Homecoming Queen 1968" and bussed by Senate President Kent Sampson.

Miss Cain won over four other contestants, Kathy Bailess, Linda Jean Boyer, Mary Anne Sampson and Kathy Koons, in voting by the student body.

A music major, the reigning queen was named Who's Who at Southwestern after an active four years as a Bulldog fan.

The Walters senior was a member of the Student Education Association Activities Council, Chorus and Southwestern Singers, in addition to accompanying many music majors in their recitals. She was also president of Oklahoma Hall.

AWS Cover Girl*

Karen, a senior from Gould, was named "Miss Cover Girl 1969" by a panel of judges Feb. 27. Representing the Student Education Association, this elementary education major won the right to be featured on the AWS calendar over 12 other girls.

Sheila, a freshman from Chickasha, was crowned queen of the Frosh Follies during intermission at the annual freshman talent show Feb. 20. Miss Payne was also a Bulldog cheerleader.

DISTINGUISHED STUDENTS: 35 Who's Who Named

Thirty-five seniors were named Who's Who at Southwestern this year, and automatically received listing in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," a national publication.

Students also gained the benefit of the publication's placement service which aided some in obtaining post graduation employment and received a certificate at the annual Duke Awards assembly in May.

Five criteria served as basis for consideration: scholastic performance, character, citizenship, contribution to the college and leadership ability.

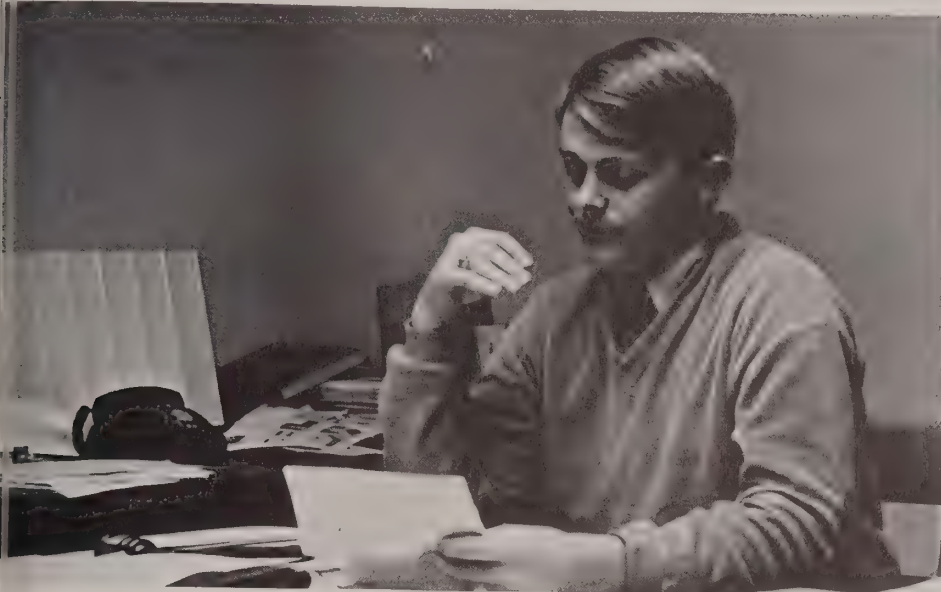

Each department on campus nominated three to five candidates, and a faculty committee appointed by the dean of the college made the final selection.

AWARDS ASSEMBLY: 61 Dukes Presented

Sixty-one Duke Award winners received recognition at the Annual Awards Assembly in May.

Kent Sampson and Shelia Willis fittingly took the 'Best Citizen' awards chosen by a campus wide vote.

State Senator Al Terrill of Lawton, a former Southwestern graduate, was the principal speaker, theming that ignorance costs more today than education itself.

At one-hour, 45-minute assembly, spectators were entertained by music from the stage band.

Under the leadership of President Kent Sampson, the "sometimes do-nothing" Student Senate really did something this year.

Expanding activities offered at every level, the Senate stretched the $5 student fee to its uttermost boundaries.

Every major dance, movie, Big Name Entertainment, Miss Southwestern Pageant and carnival was planned by the Senate and its auxiliary group, the Activities Council. In addition, the Senate joined with the Weatherford Arts Council, loaning $1,100 for the series (of which $1,000 was repayed) to bring four cultural attractions to campus.

Aiding Sampson in planning operations were: Richard Shelby, vice-president; Thad Gembacz, executive secretary; Mary Nicholson, secretary; Gary Wynn, treasurer, and Donna Smith, publicity director.

Dr. Homer Timmons and Robert Winingar were faculty sponsors.

ACTIVITIES COUNCIL: Operates with a Budget

As an arm of the Student Senate aiding the parent organization in planning and promoting campus activities, the Activities Council operated with a budget for the first time this year.

Richard Shelby, as Senate vice-president served as president of the Council. Under his leadership, membership, accepted on a voluntary basis, increased 20 from 40 to 60 members.

Other officers were Bill Palmetter, vice-president; Charla Cain, secretary, and Judy Vickers, treasurer. Virgil Downing, Student Union manager, was the faculty adviser.

The group entered and took first in its category of homecoming float competition.

BULLDOG: Book, College Grow

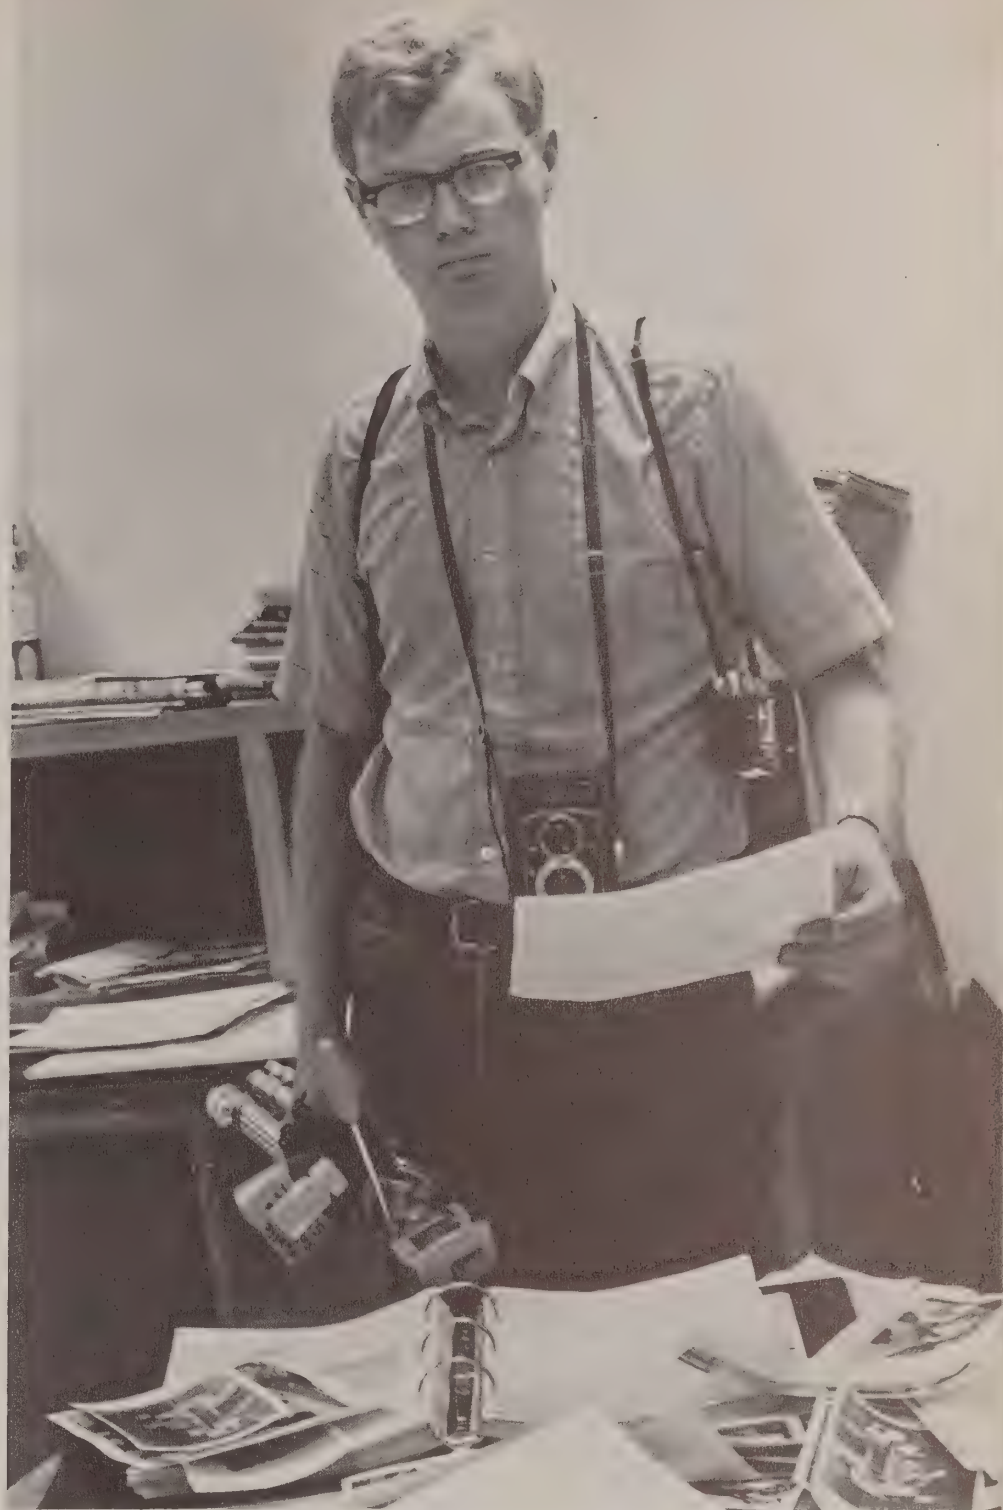

To meet the challenge of increased enrollment, the 1969 BULLDOG staff added 16 additional pages for an increase in book size from 254 to 272 pages. Add to that increased campus coverage, creative photography and improved layout. The end result was more yearbook sales and a prize-winning production.

Mike Moore edited the '69 BULLDOG taking the reigns at midterm from Carol Cheatham. Charlotte Barnes did the page layouts, and seven contributed photography.

Jennie Pearson and Mark Enos directed the sales campaign which included giving away Polaroid cameras for No.'s 1,000 and 1,500 sold.

Taylor Publishing Company printed the book. Taylor representative Lu Carroll aided immensely in planning the annual.

THE SOUTHWESTERN: State College's Liveliest, Largest Newspaper

Two innovations made THE SOUTHWESTERN the liveliest and largest of all Oklahoma state college newspapers in 1968-69.

Beginning with the fall semester, the newspaper began weekly publication and increased its average page numbers from 12 to 16. Advertising lineage increased and campus coverage doubled.

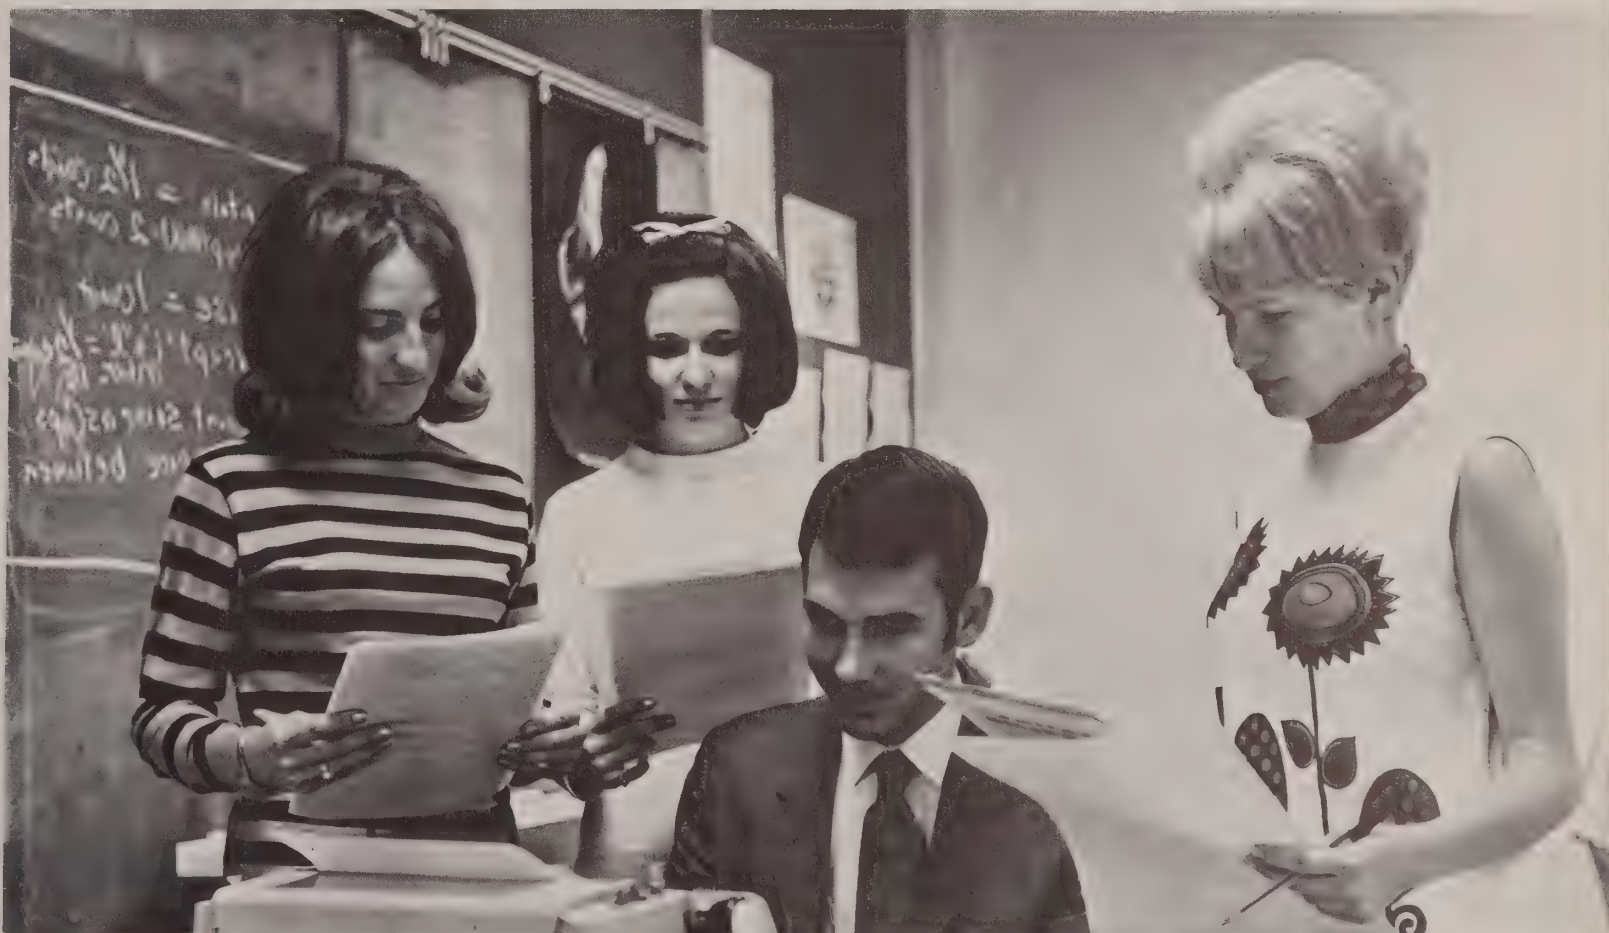

Ben Weaver did yeoman work as newspaper editor.

Efforts were rewarded at the spring meeting of the Oklahoma Collegiate Press Association when the newspaper staff took two firsts, a second and third in senior college competition.

In addition, Linda Heidebrecht and Gary Witcher received individual trophies for outstanding work in display advertising and sports writing. Heidebrecht wrote copy and Witcher took photos for a 16-page Christmas Gift Special, and then Witcher took first in sports writing.

Southwestern's entry in feature writing was second and the entry in feature photography was third.

CHORAL GROUPS: Represent College Across State

Under the direction of Dr. Merle Taff and William Akers, Southwestern's choral groups were booked for numerous appearances during the 1968-69 academic year.

In addition, The Southwestern Singers and Choraliers performed for functions on campus, including combining with the Music Department to put on the Christmas cantata, "The Messiah" at Christmas.

AWS: Votes and Changes Dorm Hours

Association of Women Students, formed in the spring of 1968, began its organizational year this year. After writing an initial constitution, AWS girls moved to change dormitory hours. A campus-wide vote of women students O. K.'ed 10:15 p.m. for freshmen-sophomores and 11 p.m. for juniors-seniors on weekdays.

Other activities included sponsoring the AWS "Cover Girl" contest, holding a Slave Day, and giving a Christmas Dance.

Deanne Kroll served as president of the group. Dean Freda Sauer, Dr. Charlotte Lam and Janet Robbins were sponsors.

CIRCLE K: Promotes Eyeglass Project

Circle K, a service organization whose motto is "We Build," instigated a project to buy needy youngsters eye glasses this year.

Offered for the first time, Circle K's 13-members worked with Dr. Lloyd Russell of Weatherford to set up the machinery to examine and fit youngsters with glasses.

John Quisenberry served as president of the group. Other officers were: J. E. Cummins, vice-president; Dennis Carroll, secretary, and Mike Chambers, treasurer.

Tom Gray of the Biology Department was faculty sponsor.

RIGHT: Circle K members Mike Peavler and Dennis Carroll listen as Dr. Lloyd Russell explains the eye examination and fitting procedures.

SW WRANGLERS: Host Rodeo at Hydro

The Southwestern Wranglers just formed in the fall of 1968 became one of the most active campus organizations in its first year of existence.

Headed by President Richard Lockhart, the Wranglers sponsored a rodeo and western dance at Hyrdo which culminated a year of activities. The group's rodeo team, in addition to competing here, traveled to Alva and Wilburton for college rodeos.

Other activities included a dance and western talent review, both held in the ballroom.

"Duke," the cowboy bulldog, was the club's mascot, and Linda Logue was the club queen.

Other officers were: Dennis Jeter, vice-president; Kay Banks, secretary; Monte Snider, treasurer; Rob Golden, reporter; and Ervin Howard, publicity.

SOUTHWESTERN SALES CLUB: All Sold Bible Series

Southwestern Sales and Executive Club, 30 members strong, is a professional organization of men who have worked for one summer with The Southwestern Company, Nashville, Tenn.

Gary Newberry served as president of the group which built a homecoming float and held a spring banquet for parents of students who will work this summer.

Other officers were: Russell Katzer, vice-president; George Rich, secretary; Jim Prock, treasurer; Jack Ogden, program chairman, and Keiffer Vermillion, Chaplain. Don Prock was faculty sponsor.

SCUBA CLUB: Like Ducks to Water

The Scuba Club, a relatively new organization, promotes scuba diving among college students. For a home base, the club uses the college swimming pool, but has made several trips to Oklahoma lakes, such as Texoma in Southern Oklahoma.

Scotty Baker was president of the group this year. He was aided by David Wright, vice-president; Tim Leslie, secretary; Lloyd Applegate, treasurer, and Charles O'Neill, reporter.

Charles Burchell was faculty sponsor.

PHARMACY WIVES: Behind Every Great Man There is a Woman

Pharmacy Wives with a total membership of 75, believes that "Behind every great man there is a woman."

Pledged to that motto, the auxiliary of the A.Ph.A. works as a service group for the School of Pharmacy. Their largest undertaking is handling the correspondence and decorations for the A.Ph.A Spring Banquet. The group also held a rummage sale to raise money to give a scholarship to a member's husband.

Mrs. David Coates, Mrs. Walter Dickison and Mrs. W. D. Strothers sponsor the group.

Highlight of the Wives' tenure at Southwestern is during their husbands graduating year. At the Spring banquet, wives are given PHT (putting hubby through) degrees.

KAPPA KAPPA PSI, TAU BETA SIGMA: Honorary Band Greeks

Kappa Kappa Psi ("Strive for the Highest") and Tau Beta Sigma ("Tau Beta Sigma for greater bands") are honorary band, fraternity and sorority, respectively.

Both groups are active in campus activities as well as band functions.

Kappa Kappa Psi awards an annual scholarship, sponsors "Jazz '69," sells SWSC car tags and acts as a service group at music functions.

Tau Beta Sigma sent a "Good Luck" telegram to the team at homecoming, held receptions after every band concert, decorated the music rooms for the holidays, helped with the band banquet and participated in the Pep Band at basketball games.

STUDENT ENTERTAINERS: Always Ready To Perform

Always ready to entertain civic groups or campus organizations, the Student Entertainers perform for "the love of performance."

Directed through the Dean of Students' office, Student Entertainers are booked throughout the state.

Auditions determine membership in the Entertainers. Payment for performances helps defray the students' school expenses.

DINERS CLUB: 'Party' Wins at Follies

Collegiate Dinners and Service Organization, a men's dining club, entered and won the group division of the All-School Follies with an act called "The Party." Nothing at Southwestern was sacred to the Dinners as they kept the capacity audience in stitches of laughter with their "Laugh-In" party-style.

Meeting approximately once a week at the Mark, the club dined together and held meetings. Socially, the Dinners had several dances and get togethers.

In May the Dinners sold light bulbs as a money making project selling over 100 boxes.

PHI BETA LAMBDA: Best Chapter in Oklahoma

Phi Beta Lambda won the 'Best Chapter' in the state award for the fourth straight year in 1969.

The business organization did it by sponsoring several events for business majors and campus groups: Business and Professional Day; Red Heads basketball; refreshments at technical institute; alumni tea; refreshments at football games, and campus tours.

Russ Katzer presided over the professional group. His cabinet included: Leland Briggs, vice-president; Gloria Haynes, secretary; Wallie McGee, treasurer, and Janice Rutledge, historian. Harry Nowka and Joe Anna Hibler were faculty sponsors for the group.

Phi Beta Lambda claimed 125 members for the 1968-69 years.

IFC: Promotes Fraternal Growth

The Interfraternity Council actively supports the fraternal system and acts as a liaison between men's greek social groups.

The Council coordinates Greek activities, including scheduling both open and closed rush sessions.

To the Council's credit is promotion of fraternal housing. Pi Kappa Alpha purchased land to build a house, the first new house for a Greek group at Southwestern and Sigma Tau Gamma's alumni purchased a house at 321 W. Arlington for the fraternity.

SIGMA KAPPA: Retires Follies Trophy

Sigma Kappa sorority won the Greek competition in the All-School Follies for the third year in a row and retired to its award case for good the traveling trophy presented by the Student Senate.

Foremost for the Sig Kaps in the second semester was taking over a wing in the new Will Rogers dormitory, bringing together girls who during the first semester lived in different college housing.

Two big dances highlighted the social portion of the year, the Christmas Dance and Violet Ball. Service-wise, the girls made many trips to visit the old folks at Lou Len Manor and to see the children at Oklahoma Baptist Orphanage.

President Alice Stephens directed Sig Kap activities. Other officers were: Mary Kay Malloy, 1st vice-president; Susie Kilpatrick, 2nd vice-president; Iris Morgan, treasurer, and Mary Brown, recording secretary.

Cynthia Edmonson was named AWS calendar girl for September, and Linda Braudway was second runner-up in the Miss Southwestern Pageant.

ALPHA XI DELTA: Membership Boosted

Alpha Xi Delta grew from eight members at the start of the year to 12 in the second semester as the sorority emphasized rush to build its membership.

Leading the rush planning was President Donna Stelzer. She was aided in planning by Vice-President-Pledge Trainer Sharon Hajny, Secretary Marcia Wilson, and Treasurer Donna Fillmore. Also taking part were faculty advisors, Dr. Grace Burcham, Miss Jana Lou Scott, Mrs. Ina Black, and Mrs. Robert Martin.

Alpha Xi hosted a Christmas Faculty Tea and sent favors to the Tuberculosis Sanatorium in Clinton. Social Activities included the Pink Rose Formal and Sweetheart Ball.

The alumni of Sigma Tau Gamma purchased a new house at 321 W. Arlington which after re-furbishing will be used as a chapter house.

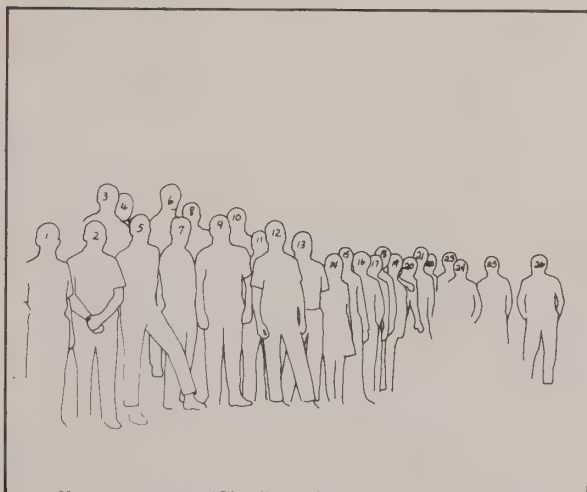

Murry Camp presided over Sig Tau activities during the year. His cabinet included: J. W. Porter, vice-president—membership; Carol Wheat, vice-president—scholarship; Gary Davis, vice-president—finance, and Jerry Averyt, secretary. Jerry Church was faculty sponsor.

Scholastically, the fraternity captured the Interfraternity Council scholarship trophy, and athletically responded with the intramural basketball championship.

On four occasions, the Sig Taus sponsored All-School dances, in addition to their own special White Rose Ball, Christmas Ball and Homecoming Dance. They also held a Founders Day banquet at the Mark Restaurant.

The fraternity promoted "Toys for Tots" again this year as its major service project.

Lynda Good was the Sig Taus sweetheart.

PI KAPPA ALPHA: Starts Construction for House

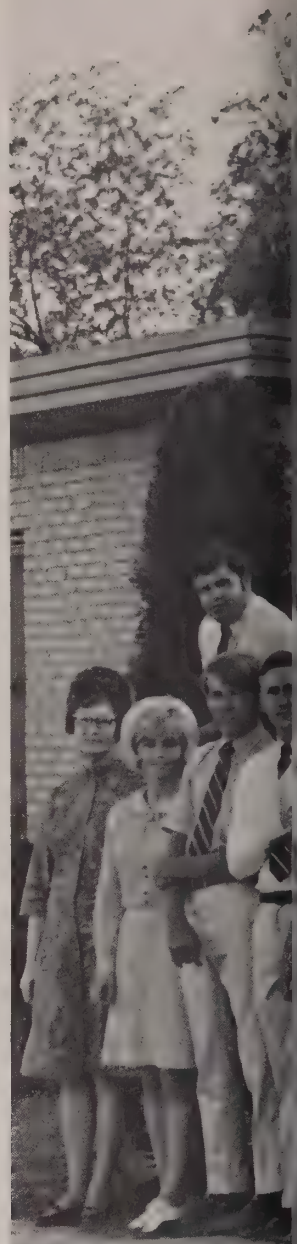

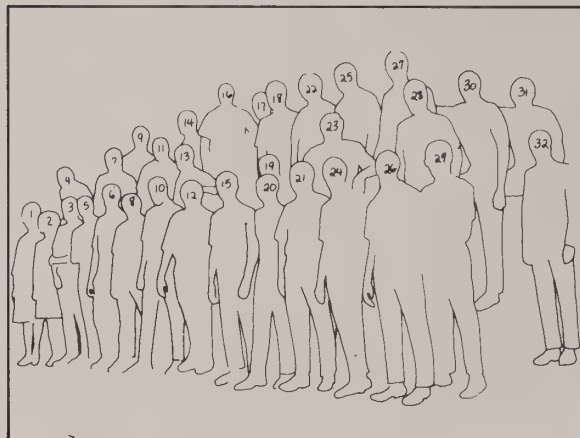

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity became the first social group to start construction on a new fraternity house, eventually to be located on West Davis Road near the College Oaks Apartments.

Not only was a new house soon in order, but the Pikes spent a banner year activity-wise. The fraternity won the Senate prize for most blood donated during the Blood Drive in both the spring and fall semesters, took second for homecoming float and were engaged in a window sticker campaign for the campus.

Gary Van Dyne served as president for PiKA's. His staff included: Pat Teague, vice-president; Mike Aneshansley, treasurer, and Gaylon Hayes, secretary. Dr. Albert Gabriel was faculty adviser.

Socially, the Pikes hosted the Suppressed Desire Ball, Christmas Ball and Dream Girl Formal at which time Paula Speck Gray was named PiKA sweetheart. Also the Pike penny pitch was a highlight of the campus carnival.

Athletically, the Pike softball team placed second in the first annual Weatherford Jaycee tournament.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON: Ron Liles Receives Forman

Ron Liles was named outstanding member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity this year. The Lawton junior received the Forman Award which annually goes to the member who serves the fraternity's best interests.

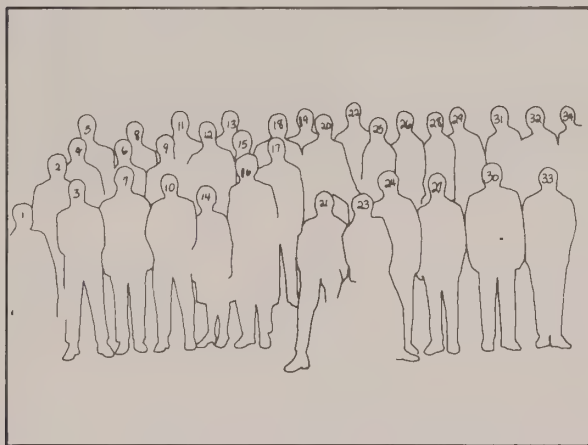

Well-known around campus was the Teke combo composed of Mike McCutchin, David Webb, Bob Kaiser, Scott Renes, and Jerry Fox. In addition to performing in the All-School Follies, the Teke musicians played for various groups and organizations.

Athletically, the Teke bowling team won four trophies in the Organization League, out-hardwaring other bowling foes.

Officers this year were: McCutchin, president; Charles Wheeler, vice-president; Randy Willis, chaplain; Gordon Robertson, sergeant-at-arms; Steve Martin, secretary; Arnold Kliever, historian, and Liles.

Dr. H. F. Timmons was faculty sponsor.

Janis Davis was the Teke Playmate.

OKLAHOMA HALL: Located Atop Hill

Oklahoma Hall spent a busy year decorating for homecoming and Christmas, and planning its Christmas Dance and Spring Formal.

Located at the top of the hill, Oklahoma Hall houses 400 women students. Mrs. Maggie Bilbrey is the dorm mother.

STEWART HALL: Purchases Mascot, Adds Library

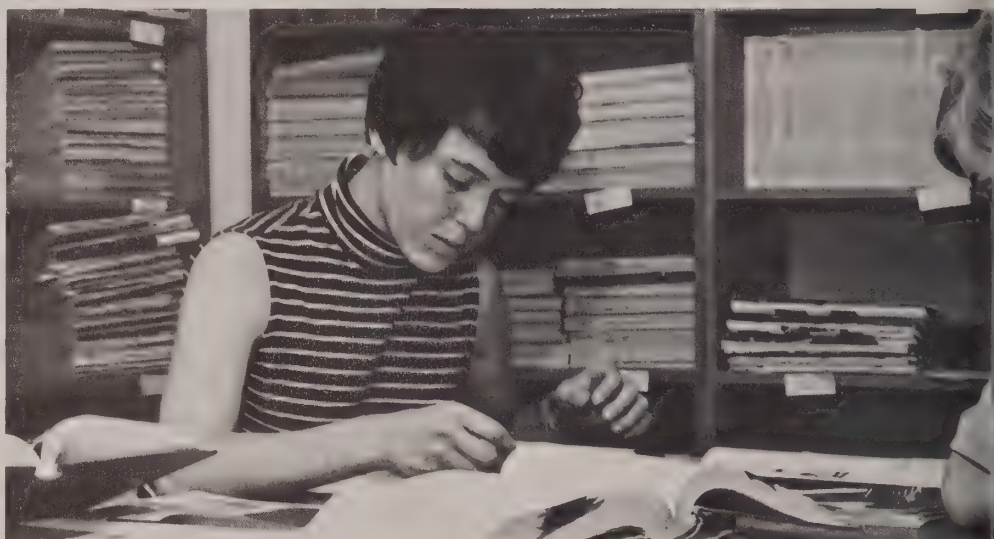

A new mascot and study hall library were added at Stewart Hall this year.

Purchased with funds from dorm dues was a black miniature poodle, affectionately named Lord Stewart or just plain "Stew."

In the basement, a library was started using old magazines and books. Desks and tables were available for those who wanted to study. It is called "The Wilborn Library."

Mrs. Susan Wilborn is the dorm mother.

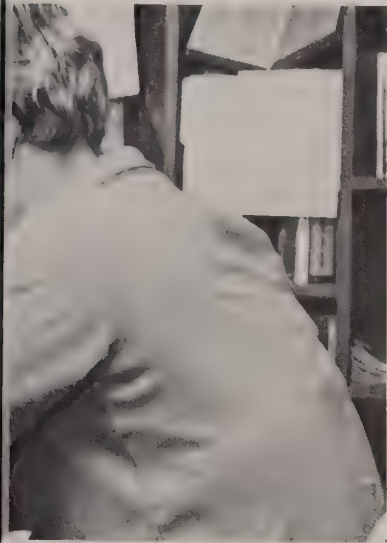

In service activities, the girls of Stewart brought cookies and candy from home and sent it overseas to Vietnam. They also carried the Christmas spirit by decorating dorm doors and hosting a Christmas Formal.

ROGERS HALL: Spacious Living at its Best

Rogers Hall opened at the beginning of the second semester after a brief delay in readying the facilities for occupancy.

'Mom Osmond had to live on the second floor for two months until her quarters received the Regents' O.K., but other than minor problems, the spacious new air conditioned living quarters were a welcomed addition to the dormitory complex at Southwestern.

The dorm housed the sororities, bringing together the girls to one living area for the first time since the groups had houses.

JEFFERSON HALL: Opens for Spring Term

Though it got a late beginning and only opened for the second semester, Jefferson Hall with its air conditioned quarters became one of the nicest men's units on campus.

Mrs. Alice Holland "mommied" her boys, and the dorm council began laying groundwork for dorm activities in the year to come.

PARKER HALL: Recreation, Studying Stressed

Recreation, as well as studying, is stressed at Parker Hall. The dorm has a weight room and ping pong tables for exercise purposes.

Also prevalent are study areas and a laundromat.

This year the dorm jointly sponsored a Christmas Dance with Oklahoma Hall which was held in the ballroom of the Union.

NEFF HALL: Due Lounge Remodeling

Neff Hall will remodel and refurnish the lounge area in the dormitory within the next year. Architects are working with the dorm to draw up plans for beautifying the area and campus workers will likely handle the renovation.

Neff, located just south of the physical education building, lies on the southeast edge of campus. The large yard area surrounding the structure is ideally suited for touch football, soccer or other sports activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Perks are dorm parents.

OFF-CAMPUS HOUSING: Played an Integral Role

Off-campus housing played an important part in the lives of Southwestern students, particularly in the first semester when the new dorms, Jefferson and Rogers, were not completed.

Housing was available on an approved and unapproved basis. Many students lived in other people's homes until the dorms were completed.

Others lived in apartments; some in houses.

Delaporte Close Before; Title First Here

Yes, fall came, and football was once again 'King of the Road' at Southwestern as well as across the country.

And a 'Rags to Riches' kingdom it was. Rebounding from three straight losses including the league opener to Defending Titlist East Central, the Bulldogs whipped off six straight conference victories to nab their first conference title since 1957.

What a team it was. Picked to finish no better than third in college play, Southwestern molded a powerful running attack with a stingy defense to out-distance rivals point-wise, 164-57.

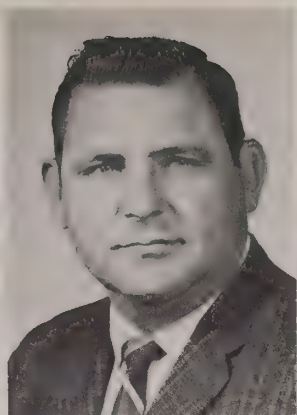

The team showed character too. When First Team Quarterback Buddy Burris broke his jaw in the team's fourth league game, the Bulldogs rallied behind Sophomore Walter Covington for guidance down the stretch. Covington responded with heady performances which enabled the team to maintain its momentum.

Southwestern also fielded two of the finest junior defensive players in the country. Second-team All-American Charles Stevens, 232-pound tackle, and Honorable Mention All-Star Rudy Thompkins, 234-pound guard, hubbed the vicious 'Dog front five that was feared by every team in the conference.

Offensively, Fullback David Davis, Southwestern's leading rusher and Guard Phil Tuttle made All-Conference. Linebacker Bill Henly joined Stevens and Thompkins atop the defensive dream team.

Southwestern, itself, started slowly, losing at Arkansas Tech 7-21 and at Sam Houston State 0-7.

Then after dropping a close 6-10 home opener to East Central, the Bulldogs began to generate offensive might, whipping Northwestern 31-0 on the Rangers' home field. Coach Delaporte called the Ranger tilt the turning point of the season because it proved the 'Dogs could play at both ends of the field.

Returning home, Southwestern jilted archrival Central State 31-7, limiting the Broncos to 105 total yards rushing and passing.

Burris Hurt at NESC

Burris got hurt in the next game as the Bulldogs downed always-tough Northeastern State 17-9 at Tahlequah.

Relying heavily on rushing for its firepower to date, Covington in his first starting role began to turn the tide. For the first time, the 'Dogs were able to combine yards in the air with those on the ground, passing for 118 yards and rushing for 250 against Southeastern.

When the Blue and White was able to shackle the left-handed passes of Savage Ish Kaniatobe for only 16 of 41 completions, the verdict read 28-9 for the 'Dogs. Coupled with East Central's stunning loss to Panhandle, the Bulldogs had gained a share of the lead.

Rain Hinders Homecoming

Homecoming was no picnic weatherwise. Playing in a heavy mist and a strong north wind, the 'Dogs were as devastating as the conditions were bad, downing co-leader Panhandle 30-7 before a shivering Queen Charla and her court. Southwestern's punishing ground attack netted 301 yards while limiting the A&M school to a net 114.

Obviously looking to the title clincher one week away, the 'Dogs were ambushed in Texas 45-21 by Tarleton State. Two Texan quarterbacks broke an old school record, bombarding 'Dog defenses for 361 yards.

Victory Dinner Caps March to Crown

Tightening up their belts, the Bulldogs worked hard during the next week, so hard in fact, it prompted Coach Delaporte to say, "It was tough going this week. We tried awfully hard."

"Awfully hard" was just enough for the big one as the 'Dogs clinched the title with a 20-13 win over Langston, dropping the Lions to last place. All the Bulldog points came in the first half, then 'Dog defenses reared back in the last stanza to thwart a late Langston passing flurry for victory.

In the finale, Reserve Quarterback John Lombard's passing arm rallied the Bulldogs to 21 second half points and a 21-20 victory over Eastern New Mexico at Portales. Ironically, it was Southwestern's first non-conference victory in four tries in a championship season.

Basketball: Exciting Bulldogs Nap Title

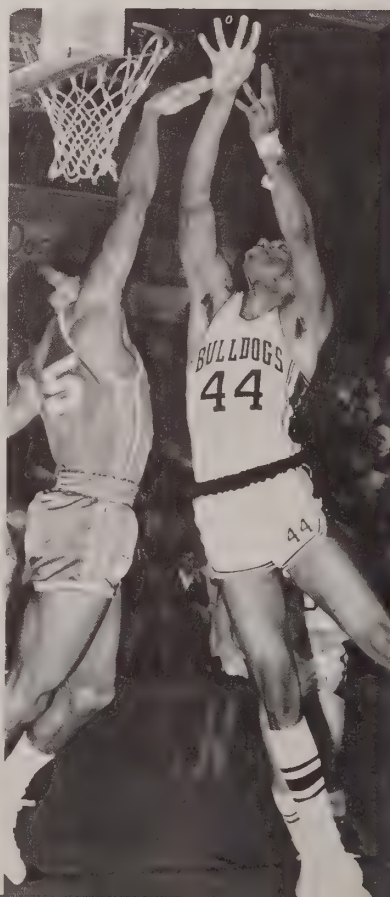

The year of the Bulldog continued into the basketball season. Southwestern's cagers won another championship, swept to the District Nine title, and represented Oklahoma at the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) tournament in Kansas City.

They did it in breathtaking fashion. After leading most of the season, the championship hinged on the final game of the year with Northeastern, co-leader with 12-5 records. The Bulldogs rose to the occasion, rallying from behind to take a nip-and-tuck 83-79 victory on the Redmen's home court.

Gaining momentum, the 'Dogs swept two straight playoff encounters 71-60 and 73-72 over Central State for the District crown.

Then sweeping into Kansas City, the Bulldogs outran Yankton, S. D. 100-91, before getting derailed by Elizabeth City, N. C.'s board strength 81-88.

Archie McGill and Lloyd Lacy, a pair of senior standouts who scored 1,841 and 1,599 points respectively, received both District Nine and Conference first team recognition. McGill who also was named honorable mention All-American joined 12 others who have been named All-Conference for three straight years.

Coach Jerry Jobe was named District Nine Coach-of-the-Year by fellow coaches, another honor for Southwestern's favorites. In five years at Weatherford, Jobe's teams have compiled 11-15, 15-8, 23-5, 18-11 and 23-8 records, winning one title outright and tying for another.

The Bulldogs won the Kiwanis Tip-Off Tournament and the Oklahoma Collegiate Pre-Season wing-ding to establish themselves as title contenders. McGill was named the outstanding player in each tournament.

'Dogs Sweep District; Advance to Kansas City

continued

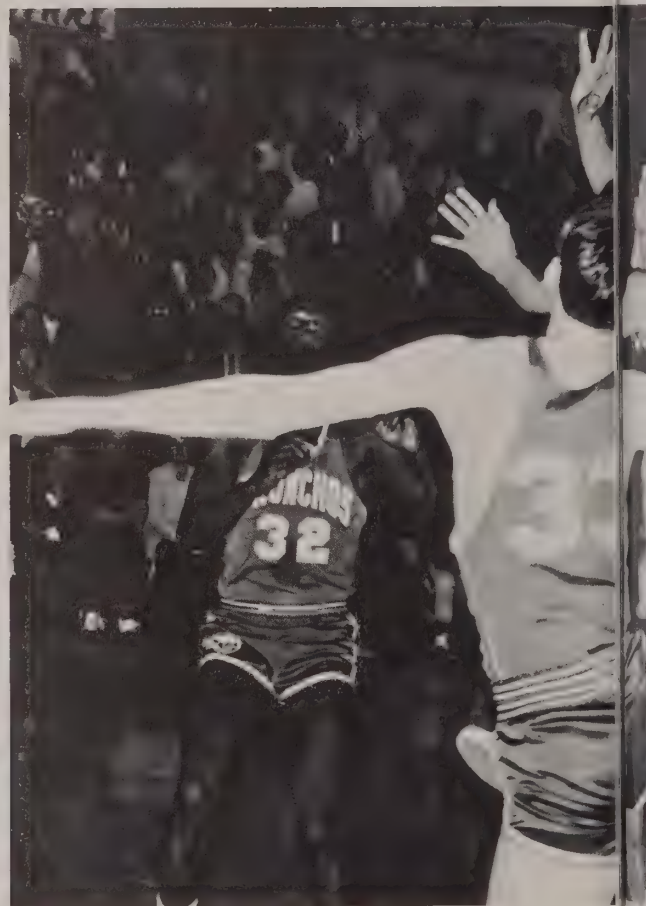

Jobe's squad whipped Harding, Ark. and Midwestern, Tex., two tall teams, here in the Tip-Off tourney, then toppled Oklahoma Baptist, Phillips and East Central for the Collegiate crown.

On the road following Christmas, the 'Dogs tasted defeat twice, once to Drury, Mo. and the other to Southwest, Mo. Baptist before regaining the touch to defeat Missouri Southern.

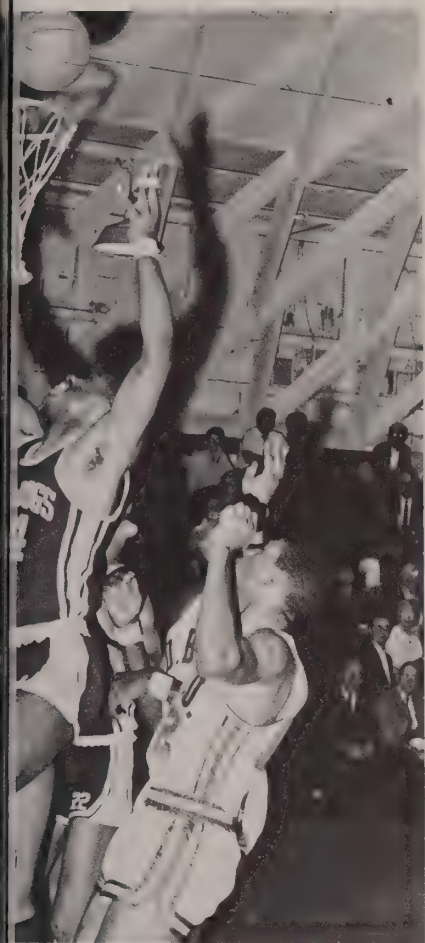

Returning to the conference race, the 'Dogs methodically waded through opposition, losing only to OBU and Southeastern in the next eight games. A disastrous road trip to OBU and Central State tightened the conference race, leaving both Northeastern and Southwestern tied at 12-4 with Central State just a game behind.

The last weekend was tension-packed. The Bulldogs were stunned Friday night by Langston 74-88, but received respite when Northeastern also dropped a game to Central.

The ending was climactic. The 'Dogs' Lloyd Lacy hit two layups in the last seconds to pull away for victory.

BASEBALL: So Close, Yet So Far

Two runs in the bottom half of the seventh inning spelled the difference between another Bulldog championship and second place.

In the battle for the western division title in the 'year of the rainout', Coach Cecil Devine's baseball squad lost a final series doubleheader to Phillips. Rained out twice previously, the 'Dogs dropped encounters, 0-3 and 3-4, at Enid to fall into second place. The Haymakers overcame a one-run deficit in the final game to win with two runs in the last half of the last inning.

But the Bulldogs fashioned a sporty 16-10 record. Four losses were to Missouri Valley Champion Tulsa, nationally-NCAA-ranked, and three were to Phillips.

Four 'Dog batmen were named to the West All-Star team: Gary Griffith, David Gunter, Phil Harrad and Sonny Vermillion. They played in the post-season classic won by the East, 8-10, at Edmond.

Vermillion led Devine's hitters with 25 hits and a .352 batting average. Griffith had 24 hits, including four homeruns and 18 runs batted in, for .328. Both were seniors.

TRACK: Brings 'Home the Bacon'

With Harry Monroe running a speedy anchor leg on the mile relay, Coach Clint Ponder's Bulldog track squad edged into second place at the Collegiate Conference meet at Edmond.

The Dogs with 48 points finished just ahead of host Central State and well behind perennial champion Langston (84).

The mile relay did it as the 'Dog foursome of Hector Herrera, Bill Blankenship, James Hewitt and Monroe just nipped Central State at the finish line.

All the relays were Southwestern's forte. In addition to the mile victory, the 'Dogs placed second in the 880 and third in the 440 for 24 of their 48 meet points.

Monroe captured the only other first for the balanced tracksters with a 55.5 clocking in the 440 intermediate hurdles.

The season itself was very unusual. The 'Dogs could only capture one dual meet victory and were beaten twice by Central during the regular competition. "We were real pleased with our conference effort," Coach Ponder said. "At the beginning of the season we thought of second place, but after midseason injuries and dismissals depleted our squad, we felt we would be lucky to place third."

GOLFERS: 5th at Conference

John Norman, taking a break from his Pharmacy studies, paced Southwestern's golfers to a fifth place finish in the Collegiate Conference golf tournament in May.

Norman, a last minute replacement for an AWOL golfer, fashioned 18's of 79-79 over the 6,780-yard Par 72 Shawnee Elks Country Club. It was Norman's first college match competition in two years.

East Central won the team title by one shot over Northeastern.

Other Bulldog linksmen playing at Shawnee were Jay Bill Norton (78-85-163); Richard Whittaker (82-86-168); Stan Shaw (89-83-172), and Stephen Greer (86-91-177).

In dual meets, 'Dog golfers recorded a 4-5 record playing home matches at El Reno Country Club, El Reno.

It's All Over, But the Shouting

To the students:

Well, it's June 2, deadline day, and we have just packed the final copy for the printer. It's been a long, hard year, just as it's a long, hard row to graduation.

But like the students marching to position at graduation, we feel proud of what we have accomplished this year.

Many people started out working on the yearbook, few finished however, special thanks to Pat Lazell, Larry Seifried and Diane Stedje for completing their sections and meeting deadlines, and to Charlotte Barnes for layouts.

Also thanks to adviser Frank Hermes for guidance and assistance, and to his secretaries, Katie Bilyeau and Jerry Hood, for clerical assistance.

Finally, an accolade to Eloise Reed for tackling the index job to completion.
